Illusion

This weapon seems to evade notice even when looking for it. The wielder adds twice the weapon's enhancement bonus to Sleight of Hand or Stealth checks made to hide the weapon. The wielder also adds this bonus to the DC for any or Hide checks made to gather information about an opponent or sounds inflicted by it.

When the wielder strikes an opponent that is unaware of him with a deceptive weapon, the weapon implants a mystical glamour that confuses divination magic. The wielder may use this effect to gather information about the target's functions like misdirection, except the wielder may not use this effect to reveal what the target will be revealed to divination effects used to reveal sounds made by the weapon.
